WMCE awards the University of Alberta's engineering students top prizes for their conceptual design reports with real data from the university.

EWMCE awards top prizes to students in the University of Alberta's Environmental Engineering, Solid Waste Management, Fall 2014 term. Student groups demonstrated excellence in their course work based on real-world problems faced by the University of Alberta's Facilities and Operations department. read more ... EWMCE writes new course to assist waste diversion in the ICI sector.

To help the ICI organizations tackle waste diversion, EWMCE developed a new course: ICI Waste Diversion Systems. Participants will discuss ICI case studies and experience hands on work. This new course is intended for all who are interested in the fundamentals of waste diversion in the ICI Sector. Our Edmonton delivery is scheduled May 27-29 at the University of Alberta. Registration will be open on our website six weeks prior to the start date.
